

Debbie Davis Leaves Indelible Mark After 33 Years

For 33 years Debbie Davis has been a “rock”, according to Jim Andrew, that has provided a steady presence and significant contributions in the many areas she has been involved.

During her tenure at Henry Poor Lumber, Debbie has been responsible for payables, receivables, safety, collections, IT, HR, special events, and assisting Jim with other business ventures.

Debbie began working at Home Works in Eastway Plaza on June 26, 1989 as the only accounting person at that location. She subsequently moved to the Home Work’s Market Square location when the business relocated to a larger facility.

In 2002 Debbie moved to the new Henry Poor Lumber store on Brady Lane to become the credit and collections manager. She finished her career solving IT issues and being part of the Human Resources depart-

Jim Andrew remarked, “Debbie has been my “work wife” and close personal friend for more years than I can count.

Her involvement in so many areas of the company has helped our different businesses move forward and grow significantly over the years.”

Jim continued, “I have depended on Debbie to help me manage my responsibilities at Henry Poor, my political campaigns, and personal affairs. But most of all when I have dealt with business and personal challenges, she has been there to help take care of the details and be a steady presence and friend. After 33 years on the job, her daily involvement will be missed.”

Debbie reflected, “The best part about working at Henry Poor is the people and friends I have made. I couldn’t ask for a better family to work for than the Andrew family.”

Celebrating Women in Construction

During the week of March 6-13 Henry Poor Lumber and Flooring Express took part in the annual Women In Construction Week by celebrating the contributions of their women team members.

The National Women in Construction organization uses this week to promote and encourage more women to consider careers in the construction and building trades industries.

At Henry Poor Lumber and Flooring Express women team members fill a number of roles including purchasing, delivery scheduling/logistics, yard manager, driver, sales, and administrative positions.

During the week HP/FE highlighted the accomplishments of several women that work at Henry Poor Lumber and Flooring Express on their Facebook and Instagram pages. They also held an appreciation lunch for their women team members where they announced their Habitat for Humanity women's build team.

The goal of this designated week is to show support of women who wish to join our industry and give them the access, education, and encouragement to work in the construction industry. We'd encourage any women interested in a career in construction to learn more by going to the National Women in Construction website.

Home Building & Remodeling Show Returns

Henry Poor Lumber and Flooring Express took part in the 2022 Home Building & Remodeling Show sponsored by the Builder Association of Greater Lafayette. The event was held on February 19 at the Tippecanoe County Fairgrounds.

Henry Poor Lumber featured its Whitecliff Custom Kitchen cabinets and quartz countertops. Visitors to the booth were able to talk to our kitchen design staff and leave with ideas on how to update their existing kitchens and baths.

Henry Poor Lumber's Tony Vent remarked, "It was nice to be out at the BAGL Home Show following a year off due to the pandemic. This event has always been a great way to meet future customers."

Flooring Express displayed some of the newest trends in flooring. Its many carpet and vinyl plank options drew a lot of attention.
